

The Boy

Om and I looked at the large gloomy cave. Step by step we entered the cave. Om lit a flame torch. The cave was filled with deep dark chambers. Soon we got to the main chamber. There were smooth pebbles across the sides of the cave.

We saw lots of wild animals around us. I was shocked but I was fine when we knew they were imprints on the walls. Then I saw something out of the back of my eye. It was bigger than me. It was a threatening bear...

The fierce bear attacked Om and I. I defended us with the flame torch. Om fled quickly in terror. The strong bear knocked my torch out of my shaking hand and I fell down a very deep hole...

The Boy

Om eagerly led me into a dark gloomy cave. Strangely it looked quite familiar. The hard rocks and smooth pebbles were piled on top of each other at the side of the cave.

Om lit a torch with two pebbles. I tried, but it didn't work, Om's was better. Om started to draw something on the cave wall with an old piece of charcoal. Suddenly I saw shadow. I thought it was real and when I looked back it was real! I quickly looked back again but this time it wasn't there. Feeling scared, step by step I looked behind me. It was there...
