

Dragonslayer

The Dragonslayer got off from his tired horse. He angrily clenched his fist, he snatched up his sword, and his shield at the same time. He got ready for the dangerous battle. The dragon ran up to fight the Dragonslayer. The dragon breathed out burning fire towards the Dragonslayer, but his shield protected him.

The dragon whacked him with his mighty tail and he landed hard on a rock. As he raised his sword it got stuck on a rock. The dragon got closer and closer and closer. The Dragonslayer strongly pulled his sharp sword from the rock as the dragon got closer still. He slipped and his sword went inside the dragon's stomach. The dragon fell down to his death!

Dragonslayer

The powerful Dragonslayer entered the rocky arena. He stared with no fear at the fire breathing beast.

He grabbed his sword. He grabbed his shield. He clenched his fists. Go!

The Dragonslayer charged at the 50 foot beast, but the dragon breathed boiling fire towards him. He whacked the beast with his sharp sabre like sword. But just then the dragon slammed him into a massive stone wall and his valuable sword got wedged in the wall. He tugged and agonisingly pulled, but it wasn't coming loose. The terrifying beast was still rapidly coming. Would he survive?

Finally it cracked clear of the wall and he violently stabbed the beast. Boom! It slammed to the ground.

It was over.
